

FAQS

How do I share my stories?

If you want to share listening access to your Voice Library with a family member or friend, give them your account Listener ID and Password. They will not be able to record to your Voice Library, which requires a Recorder ID and PIN.

How do I interview people in different locations?

Use your phone's conference call function, Skype, or flash capability. Call The Voice Library at 1-888-943-2763. Press 1, then follow recorder instructions. Once established, connect those on hold to join!

How do I edit my recordings?

Download your selected recordings from your TVL library to your computer. Use your personal editing software to make the edits you desire. Upload edited recordings to your TVL library. Save and title your stories to keep them organized.

How can I transfer my past recordings and home movies?

Use the speaker function on your phone to capture old recordings like voice mails, reel-to-reel recordings, cassettes, CDs and more! Just dial TVL and log in as a recorder, then turn on your phone's speaker function to capture the recordings you choose.

“In today’s world of ever changing technology, it’s comforting to know your family’s stories will always be just a simple call or click away!”

Welcome to The Voice Library

Longfellow said it best, “the human voice is the organ of the soul.” Your voice & stories unlock the creative power to teach, inspire, and comfort, while sharing companionship & entertainment for generations to cherish and enjoy!

The Voice Library innovation gives your loved ones instant access to these epic, timeless treasures, any time or place, with just a phone or Internet connection. In today’s world of 3-second attention spans and ever changing technology, it’s comforting to know your family’s stories will always be just a simple click or call away!

This booklet provides a few simple exercises to help you prepare and create a valuable Voice Library that you can share today, tomorrow, and for years to come. You can spend as long as you like on each activity to: Comfort, Entertain, Teach & Inspire... for generations!

Warmest Regards,
Your Voice Library Team

Special Events

Times change rapidly in our lifetimes. Why not share the special events that were meaningful to you? Tell a story about the war, describe a buddy you had in battle, talk about your firsthand experience witnessing a historical event, describe what it was like to see a new invention, or share what you learned from experiencing hard times or world events.

Special Memories

Everyone has different values. What is the thing you miss most in life? A pet? A toy? A person? Remember a special time in your life, describe the teacher who inspired you to be a better person, talk about coworkers who have been meaningful to you, or describe places that you lived for many years. Describe objects that had significance, remember a family pet who meant the world to you, describe what certain eras were like and what made them different from today.

Can I have my voice actors or original voices record from anywhere to save time?

Yes! You simply give them recording access codes to record anytime, anyplace, anywhere, or have them upload MP3 (change recorder access codes later for your security and restricted access).

Ideas for Authors

Simply use the Voice Library to record your manuscript, teaser chapters or full story/ poetry.. to grow interest. Send a personal invitation to publishers, editors, friends, and family to listen - market/ advertise and promote. Are you the next best seller? Don't forget to name each recording for the chapter you selected. Example: Recording 1 named/recorded as Chapter 1.

Your Subscription

After joining The Voice Library, you will receive an email and letter including your account name and account password. You can start using your Voice Library as soon as you have these codes. Write down your personal access codes to keep them handy when you are ready to record or listen.

Rest assured, because your recordings are protected. You retain all rights, control and intellectual property content to your Voice Library account.

Recorder Log In

There are two types of log ins for The Voice Library. The main log in, which gives you full access to the account, is called the "Recorder". The Recorder has the ability to create recordings & listen to all saved stories.

Listener Log In

Your "Listener" log in allows you to share your stories with whom ever you choose. Listener login gives the user access to stories, but not the ability to record them.
